

CALL FOR PAPERS

LUBRICATION FUNDAMENTALS

Dear Colleagues,

Lubrication Fundamentals Technical Committee is soliciting papers for presentations for the 74th STLE Annual Meeting & Exhibition that will be held on May 19-23, 2019 in Nashville, Tennessee. Theoretical, experimental, and/or case studies focusing on improving lubrication performance and the corresponding mechanism understanding will be considered for presentations. These topics include (but are not limited to):

- Boundary/Mixed/Elastohydrodynamic Lubrication
- Advanced Surface Engineering/Solid Lubrication
- Ionic Liquids
- Polymer Rheology
- Relationships between Lubrication, Friction, and Wear
- Bridging Lab Testing and Field Experience
- Fundamental understanding of conventional and novel Lubricant Additives for:
 - Fuel efficiency improvement and fuel economy retention
 - Viscosity modification
 - Oxidation stability
 - Wear protection
 - Deposit control
 - Corrosion inhibition, etc.

Please mark your calendar and submit your 100-150 word abstract no later than: October 1st, 2018

Please submit your abstract(s) at <https://stle2019.abstractcentral.com/>. You will access a set of instructions that direct you on how to create your own account. Please check the Session “Lubrication Fundamentals.” Information on the technical sessions to be held at the 2019 Annual Meeting can also be found on <http://www.stle.org/annualmeeting>.

For questions related to Lubrication Fundamentals abstract submissions, please contact Jodie Nelson (Paper Solicitation Char), American Refining Group, Inc.: jnelson@amref.com

We greatly look forward to receiving your submissions.
